Introduction

This Privacy Statement applies to the processing of personal data by HumanCapitalCare B.V. ('HumanCapitalCare').

In this Privacy Statement, we inform you about the personal data we process, the purposes for which we process the data and the way in which we manage the data. Processing of personal data is understood to include among other things the collection, storage, recording, modification, retrieval, consultation or erasure of personal data.

HumanCapitalCare is an innovative service and healthcare provider. We advise and support employers with regard to the implementation of integrated health management and help employees remain durably employable throughout their working life. For that purpose we offer custom-made services on the basis of an extensive portfolio of products and services in the field of prevention, absence and interventions, intended to keep employees competent, motivated and healthy.

We handle any personal data which we process with a great deal of care and in accordance with the applicable legislation and regulations, including the General Data Protection Regulation ('GDPR')¹. That means among other things that HumanCapitalCare:

- will inform you in clear terms and in a transparent way about the way in which and purposes for which your personal data is processed;
- will only process personal data for a specific purpose and only in case a lawful basis of the processing exists as referred to in the GDPR;
- will take appropriate technical and organisational measures to protect personal data against destruction or loss;
- will inform you about your rights with respect to the personal data;
- has appointed a Data Protection Officer who monitors and ensures that the processing of personal data within the organisation of HumanCapitalCare complies with the GDPR. The Data Protection Officer also acts as a contact person for the Dutch Data Protection Authority ('Autoriteit Persoonsgegevens').

This Privacy Statement contains three Sections – Section A, B and C.

Section A

As a provider of healthcare HumanCapitalCare processes personal data of employees of its customers. HumanCapitalCare is, on the basis of inter alia The Working Conditions Act ('Arbeidsomstandighedenwet') and the Medical Treatment Contracts Act ('Wet op de geneeskundige behandelingsovereenkomst'), required to process this data. If HumanCapitalCare provides healthcare to employees it compiles an occupational healthcare file of these employees. In that file, data, including personal data, is stored. In this Privacy Statement we explain how we handle the personal data of the employees to whom we provide healthcare for this purpose. This is addressed in Section A of this Privacy Statement.

Section B

In addition to personal data of employees, we also process several other categories of personal data in our organisation, including personal data of our suppliers and personal data of the visitors of our website. In Section B we explain how we handle these other categories of personal data.

Section C

Section C contains a number of general provisions. Here, you can read among other things how we secure your personal data and who is available for your questions about this Privacy Statement.

This Privacy Statement has been drawn up and is managed under the responsibility of the management of HumanCapitalCare.

SECTION A

Personal data processed by HumanCapitalCare

Acting as a provider of healthcare HumanCapitalCare processes the following personal data of employees of its customers:

- Personal data, including:
 - Name and address data;
 - Email address;
 - Telephone number;
 - Date of birth;
 - Gender;
 - Nursing address of sick employee;
 - Employee ID²;
 - Citizen Service Number.

- Sensitive personal data, including:
 - Health information, such as the date of the employee's sickness notification, date of the recovery notification, presumed duration of absence, whether one of the fall-back provisions of the Dutch Sickness Benefits Act ('Ziektewet') applies, whether the Dutch Work and Income according to labour capacity Act ('Wet Werk en Inkomen naar Arbeidsvermogen') applies to the employee, whether a sick employee has been involved in a traffic accident, and health information which is obtained by means of questionnaires completed by the employee for the purpose of preventative healthcare;
 - Medical information concerning your health, which is processed by us and which is subject to medical confidentiality, which is needed for the evaluation of your work capacity (or disability), support during absence and reintegration, progress of treatment and information required for the purpose of providing preventative healthcare to the employee;

Purposes

HumanCapitalCare processes the above personal data in order to be able to perform services in the field of integrated health management, labour conditions, absence support, reintegration, interventions, prevention, health examinations, evaluations and vaccinations to employers and employees.

² This refers to the Employee ID or a different code that is specifically linked to an employee and replaces the Citizen Service Number as a key value, as described in the Nationale Verzuimstandaard ('NVS') 2017. This standard is endorsed by health and safety services that are members of the OVAL sector association and is managed by Stichting Sivi.

We may process personal data for research purposes, to the extent that this is permitted under privacy legislation and regulations. An example of such research includes the preparation of reports, such as absence reports and group reports or (absence) statistics for employers (our customers). In addition, we conduct research for the purpose of improving the quality of our services to employees. Activities with regard to research, analysis and statistics are only conducted with anonymised data. The reports and statistics for an employer or his employee participation body only contain data at a group level and do not contain personal data that can be traced back to an individual person.

HumanCapitalCare ensures that the personal data is safely stored and cannot be accessed by unauthorised persons.

In order to ensure that the healthcare we provide is and remains of a high standard, a designated and qualified healthcare professional may have access to personal data stored in our medical files to perform quality checks. Such checks are only performed by healthcare professionals who are bound by a duty of medical confidentiality. The checks take place as much as possible using data which cannot identify an individual. In this regard, HumanCapitalCare complies with the guidelines of the Royal Dutch Medical Association ('Koninklijke Nederlandse Maatschappij ter bevordering der Geneeskunst', 'KNMG').

Basis for processing

HumanCapitalCare processes the personal data because it is legally obliged to do so on the basis of the Dutch Medical Treatment Contracts Act ('Wet op de geneeskundige behandelingsovereenkomst' 'Wgbo'), the Dutch Working Conditions Act ('Arbeidsomstandighedenwet') and contractual obligations with employers and employees. HumanCapitalCare processes only the personal data which it requires for the performance of these statutory and contractual obligations, such as compilation of an occupational health file for each employee we support.

HumanCapitalCare is obliged to process the citizen service number of employees in accordance with the Act containing Additional Provisions on the Processing of Personal Data in the Healthcare Industry ('Wet aanvullende bepalingen verwerking persoonsgegevens in de zorg').

Necessary personal data of employees will only be made available to HumanCapitalCare when the law obliges HumanCapitalCare to process such data, i.e. at the moment at which the provision of healthcare to an employee starts. In case no care is provided, no personal data of employees will be made available to HumanCapitalCare. This is ensured by the software which we make available to employers and employees for the purpose of the performance of integrated healthcare management.

In addition to our statutory or contractual obligations, we may process your personal data in case you specifically consent to the processing for a certain purpose.

Retention period

Personal data processed by us on the basis of the Dutch Medical Treatment Contracts Act will be retained by us for at least 20 years after termination of your employment with your employer or after termination of the agreement between your employer and HumanCapitalCare.

When determining the retention period of the personal data processed by us, HumanCapitalCare complies with the general guidelines for the retention and erasure of medical records of the KNMG.

Subject to the KNMG guidelines the following summarised principles apply to the retention and erasure of medical data:

- A. We will retain your personal data during a period of 20 years after:
- termination of your employment with your employer;
 - termination of our service contract with your employer;
 - your death.
- B. In case of exposure to hazardous substances – depending on the substance to which you have been exposed - we will retain your personal data for 30 or 40 years after termination of your employment with your employer, termination of our service contract with your employer or your death.
- C. After termination of your employment or termination of our service contract with your employer we may receive a request to transfer your personal data to your new occupational physician or health and safety service. In that case we will transfer your personal data related to current cases of disease to your new occupational physician or health and safety service, after which we will not retain such data any longer. Personal data that relates only to resolved cases of disease will be retained by us during the statutory retention period of 20 years, or 30 or 40 years in case of exposure to hazardous substances. In case of exposure to ionizing radiation, we retain personal data until the employee has reached, or would have reached, the age of 75 years, in accordance with the Decree
- D. In cases other than those referred to under A through C we will retain your personal data for a longer period of time in case the law requires us to retain your personal data for a longer period of time or in case longer retention of your personal data should result from due care of a medical practitioner. In addition to that we may retain your personal data for a longer period of time after your express approval.

Transfer of personal data to third parties

Below we will explain in which cases we may transfer your personal data to third parties.

The employer

We may transfer only the following (personal) data of employees to their employer:

- Work which the employee is no longer or still able to perform (functional limitations, remaining possibilities and implications for the kind of work which the employee is still able to perform);
- Expected duration of absence;
- The extent to which the employee is disabled (on the basis of functional limitations, remaining possibilities and implications for the kind of work the employee is still able to perform);
- Any advice on modifications, work-related facilities or interventions which the employer needs to introduce for the reintegration of the employee.

Before we transfer the above data to the employer, the employee will be informed about the content matter of the information to be transferred.

Any other data of that is processed by us is subject to medical confidentiality of the occupational physician and will not be disclosed to the employer, unless the employee has given us express approval to do so. For that purpose the employee will sign an authorisation which is stored in the occupational health file.

The absence statements or group reports which we may transfer to your employer are anonymised and do not contain any personal data.

Intervention parties

We may, after express approval of the employee, make \ personal data available to persons who are directly involved in the treatment or occupational health support, to the extent that this is necessary for the performance of their duties. This may be for instance a physiotherapist or psychologist to whom the employee is referred in consultation with the occupational physician as part of the reintegration. We transfer personal data to those intervention parties only in case these persons are registered under the Dutch Healthcare Professionals Act ('Wet op de beroepen in de individuele gezondheidszorg, Wet BIG') and we have made contractual agreements with them on the processing of the personal data of the employee.

UWV

We may transfer personal data to the Dutch Institute for Employee Benefit Schemes ('Uitvoeringsinstituut Werknemersverzekeringen', 'UWV') to the extent that this is necessary for the performance of the duties of UWV under the Dutch SUWI Act ('Wet SUWI'). That may for instance be the case if the employee applies for benefits under the Dutch Work and Income According to Labour Capacity Act ('Wet Werk en Inkomen naar Arbeidsvermogen', 'WIA'). In that case, the occupational physician will provide among other things a current evaluation of the sickness and medical information which are necessary for the insurance physician of UWV to evaluate the medical situation.

Absence insurers

We will transfer non-medical data, including data concerning the sickness and recovery notification and administrative information, to absence insurers to the extent that such data is necessary for the insurer to determine the amount of the benefit.

Dutch Centre for Occupational Disease ('Nederlands Centrum voor Beroepsziekten')

We have a statutory obligation to notify the Dutch Centre for Occupational Disease of occupational diseases for scientific and statistical purposes. We only transfer data which cannot be traced back to one person.

Transfer of data for the purpose of research, analysis and statistics

In case we cooperate with third parties for the purpose of (scientific) research, analysis or statistics, we will transfer to these third parties only anonymised data to the extent that this is necessary to conduct the research, analysis and/or statistics and only insofar this is permitted by law. Personal data will never be made available to third parties for this purpose.

We may transfer personal data to (public) institutions, such as Statistics Netherlands ('Centraal Bureau voor de Statistiek') and the National Institute for Public Health and the Environment ('Rijksinstituut voor Volksgezondheid en Milieu'), in case such institutions are, based on their legal duties, allowed or obliged to receive personal data from our organisation. We only do so in case there exists a legal basis for the transfer.

Basis

HumanCapitalCare has a legitimate interest in processing the above personal data. The processing of this data is necessary in order to ensure a proper application process.

Retention period

The personal data will be deleted four weeks after the vacancy has been filled, unless the applicant has given us their express approval for storage of their personal data for a longer period of time.

Processing of personal data for commercial communications

Categories of personal data

We may use (public) contact information of (potential) customers for sending information on the services we provide. In that case, we will process the following personal data:

- Name;
- Email address.

Purposes

The above personal data is processed to send targeted commercial communications to (prospective) customers in order to provide information on the services and products of HumanCapitalCare.

The (potential) customer can at all times unsubscribe from receiving commercial communications from HumanCapitalCare.

Basis

HumanCapitalCare has a legitimate interest in processing personal data of its customers in order to send commercial information. We consider it important to properly maintain our customer relationships and provide our customers with relevant information.

We will send commercial messages to prospective customers only after having obtained their express approval for this, unless this is not required by law.

Retention period

Your personal data will be deleted when:

- the customer does not have any relationship with HumanCapitalCare any longer;
- a prospective customer has withdrawn its express approval for sending commercial messages;
- the (potential) customer has unsubscribed from receiving commercial communications of HumanCapitalCare.

SECTION C

Security

Adequate security of your personal data is very important. HumanCapitalCare has implemented all reasonable and appropriate technical and organisational measures in order to secure the confidentiality, integrity and availability of your personal data. We will process your data only in the Netherlands. Personal data is not transferred to countries outside the European Economic Area ('EEA').

In order to demonstrably guarantee the security of your personal data HumanCapitalCare has an ISO 9001, ISO 27001 and NEN 7510 certification.

In case, despite the security precautions taken, a security incident would occur, we will take the appropriate measures to limit any consequences for your privacy as much as possible.

Disclosure of personal data to third parties

In cases other than those referred to in Section A, HumanCapitalCare does not actively disclose any personal data to third parties. In case HumanCapitalCare would disclose personal data to third parties, HumanCapitalCare will always obtain prior permission from you, unless such permission is not required by law.

Your rights

You have the right to request from us in writing:

- Access to your personal data. You may ask us whether we process personal data of you. If that is the case we will explain what personal data of you is processed by us, in what way and for what purposes we do this. You may also request from us a copy of your personal data that we process;
- Rectification of your personal data. If in your opinion, your personal data processed by us is incorrect or incomplete, you may request us to complete or modify your data;
- Erasure of your personal data. You may request us to delete your personal data processed by us. After receipt of a request to that effect we will erase your personal data without undue delay if:
 - the data is no longer necessary for the purpose for which it has been processed by us;
 - you do not give us your consent to process your personal data any longer;
 - you object to the processing of the personal data and there is no reason why we may process the data any longer;
 - the data was processed by us for the purpose of direct marketing;
 - the personal data should not have been processed by us ('unlawful processing');
 - the law requires us to erase the personal data.

We are not allowed to erase personal data upon request if we are obliged by law to retain the personal data.

- Restriction of processing of your personal data. You may request us to restrict the processing of your personal data. We will comply with such a request in the following cases:
 - It is your opinion that your personal data which we process, is incorrect. We will not use this personal data until the data has been verified and possibly modified or completed;
 - We should not have processed the personal data but you do not wish us to (fully) erase your personal data;
 - We do not need your personal data any longer but you wish to be able to use this data in order to establish a claim or instigate legal proceedings;
 - You object to our processing of your personal data and we have not yet evaluated your objection.

If processing of your personal data is subject to a restriction, we will process this data only with your consent. Before the restriction is lifted, we will inform you of that.

- Transfer of your personal data in a commonly used format ('right of data portability'). You may request from us a copy of your personal data which we process. We will provide you with a copy in a commonly used format which can be used for instance if you wish to transfer the data to a different service provider, such as a different health and safety service. In case this is technically possible for us and if you wish, we can directly transmit the personal data to your new service provider.

Notification

Upon your request, we can rectify or erase your personal data, or we can restrict the processing of your personal data. It may be possible that we have transferred your personal data to third parties. In that case, we will notify the third party that we have rectified or erased your personal data, or that we have restricted the processing, unless this is not possible for us. Upon your request, we will provide you with information about the third parties we have notified.

Right to object

You also have the right to object in writing to the processing of your personal data. In case you object, we will request you to explain to us why you do not agree with processing of your personal data.

How we deal with your request

After we have received a request to exercise the rights indicated above, we will inform you about the action we have taken upon your request as soon as possible and no later than one month upon receipt of your request. In some cases, we may need more time to respond to your request. If that is the case, we will notify you as soon as possible and no later than one month upon receipt of your request. We may in such a case extend the term to respond to your request by a maximum of two months. In case we do not take any action upon your request, we will inform you as soon as possible and no later than one month upon receipt of your request. In that case, you have the right to lodge a complaint with the Dutch Data Protection Authority.

Complaints Procedure

If, in your opinion, we do not comply with the provisions of this Statement or we do not respect your rights with regard to processing of your personal data, you may submit your complaint using the complaint form on our website. Our complaints procedure applies. The procedure is available on our website.
